Accomplishment

Dr. Balaji Asegaonkar established Snehsawali Care Center, an NGO in Aurangabad, Maharashtra. This center provides holistic palliative care to dependent patients of all age groups under professional supervision. Residents receive comprehensive care, including medical treatment, physiotherapy, nutritious food, psychological support, and shelter, all under one roof. The palliative care program is tailored to each resident's needs, implemented, and evaluated objectively.

The center also hosts a weekly Parkinson's support group, which is free for patients from Aurangabad. Additionally, there are specialized care programs for dementia and Alzheimer's patients. A geriatric caregiver course is offered, focusing on preventing caregiver burnout. During the COVID-19 pandemic, a successful post-COVID rehabilitation program was implemented.

All services are provided free of cost to orphans and individuals from weaker sections of society. The NGO operates on donations and the active contributions of its doctor trustees. Those who wish to support this project can donate their time, resources, or money to the following bank account.
